Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 2-29 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-29 of U.S. Patent No. 6285655. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patent claims are encompassed the limitation of the present application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kotzin (USP 6173005).

Regarding claim 24, Kozin discloses an apparatus for providing particularized transmissions comprising a first processing element configured to cover a traffic channel of each of the particularized transmissions with a Walsh sequence, wherein each traffic channel is covered with a different Walsh sequence (Fig 4, Ref 312 is spreading the information on traffic channel TCH 1 with a W code that different from TCH 2, See Fig 6, TCH 1 – N use the W I- K) and a second processing element configured to cover pilot data for each of the particularized transmissions with pilot Walsh sequences, wherein each pilot is covered with a different pilot Walsh sequence (Fig 4, Ref 310 discloses a pilot data spreaded with W x and 411 is a pilot data spreaded with Wy), the second processing element communicatively coupled to the first processing element (Fig 4, Ref 314 discloses 310 and 312 are coupled).

Regarding claim 27, Kozin discloses apparatus for providing improved performance in a particularized transmission, comprising a first processing element configured to cover traffic channel of the particularized transmission with a Walsh sequence orthogonal to Walsh sequences of surrounding transmissions (Fig 4, Ref 312 is spreading the information on traffic channel TCH 1 with a W code that different from TCH 2, See Fig 6, TCH 1 – N use the W I- K), and a second processing element configured to cover pilot data of the particularized transmission with a pilot Walsh sequence orthogonal to pilot Walsh sequences covering pilot data of the surrounding transmissions (Fig 4, Ref 310 discloses a pilot data spreaded with W x and 411 is a pilot data spreaded with Wy), and communicatively coupled to the first processing element (Fig 4, Ref 314 discloses 310 and 312 are coupled).

Regarding claim 25 and 28, Kozin discloses the pilot Walsh sequences are derived from a basic Walsh sequence (Fig 7, Ref W0 is a basic of Walsh code).

Regarding claims 26 and 29, Kozin discloses the basic Walsh sequence is Walsh sequence zero (Fig 7, Ref W0 is a basic of Walsh code being zero).
